How will the application be judged?

Selections will be based on the general worthiness of the application. The PWCA Committee will consider academics, extra-curricular activities, goals, etc. The committee may also, at its discretion, consider need-based or special circumstances. Applications are assigned a number upon receipt with the first page of identifying information separated and sealed until the scholarship committee has reviewed the essays and the final selection is made. Only the winning numbers will be disclosed to identify the award recipients. In the event there is a tie for the first place winner, the committee will decide by reviewing the winners' applications only. The committee will rescore and select one first place winner.
